

PHILADELPHIA UNIVERSITY

FACULTY AND PROFESSIONAL STAFF ACCOMPLISHMENTS
JANUARY 2003

I. PUBLICATIONS

Eileen Angelini, School of General Studies

“Témoins: Incorporating the Lessons of the Holocaust into French Classes – An Instructor’s Resource Manual, co-authored with Barbara P. Barnett – 66 pp. Online. Larcdma.sdsu.edu/aatf_ciber and www.frenchteachers.org/general/DOEgrant/contents.htm, October 2002.

Jeffrey Ashley, School of Science & Health

An Integrative Approach Towards Understanding Ecological Responses to Dam Removal: The Manatawny Creek Study (2002), Journal of the American Water Resource Association, Volume 38, Number 6, 158, December 2002, co-authored with Karen L. Bushaw-Newton, David D. Hart, James E. Pizzuto, James R. Thomson, Jennifer Egan, Thomas E. Johnson, Richard J. Horwitz, Melissa Keeley, Joy Lawrence, Don Charles, Catherine Gatenby, Daniel A. Kreeger, Tim Nightengale, Roger L. Thomas, and David J. Velinsky.

Steven Bell, Gutman Library

“Is More Always Better?” American Libraries, Vol. 34, No. 1, January 2003.

Susan Christoffersen, School of Business Administration

“An Active Learning Tool for the Principles of Economics: The Allocation Exercise,” The American Economist, V. 46, No. 2, Fall 2002.

Steven Dinero, School of General Studies

“Special Education Use Among the Negev Dedouin Arabs of Israel: A Case of Minority Underrepresentation?” Race, Ethnicity and Education, Volume 5, Number 4, pps. 377-396, December 1, 2002.

Sigrid Weltge, School of Textiles & Materials Technology

“Memory on Cloth – Shibori Now,” American Craft, Vol. 62, No. 6, December 2002/January 2003.

II. CONFERENCES

Eileen Angelini, School of General Studies

1) “Connecting with the Standards,” presentation, 2002 Fall Annual Conference of the MLAPV, Rosemont College, Rosemont, PA, October 5, 2002. 2) France Divided: Example of Good and Evil in the Holocaust,” co-presenter, Pennsylvania Holocaust Education Task Force’s Teaching the Lessons of the Holocaust in Light of Contemporary Issues Conference, Philadelphia, PA, December 5-6, 2002.

Jeffrey Ashley, School of Science & Health

“Environmental Education – From Classrooms to Communities,” session chair, 23rd Annual Conference of the Society for Environmental Toxicology and Chemistry, Salt Lake City, UT, November, 2002.

“Assessing Sedimentary Nonylphenol Contamination in the Delaware and Schuylkill Rivers,” presentation, 2002 Annual Water Resources Conference, Philadelphia, PA, November 2002.

Parimal Bhagat, School of Business Administration

“A Framework for Evaluating Quality of Web Services,” presentation and published paper in proceedings, International Conference on Marketing of Technology Oriented Products and Services in the Global Environment, Bangalore, India, December 27-28, 2002.

Susan Christoffersen, School of Business Administration

Invited speaker, Round Table on Technology in the Classroom, American Economics Association Annual Meeting, Washington, DC, January 4, 2003.

Steven Dinero, School of General Studies

“The Lord Will Provide’: The History and Role of Episcopalian Christianity in Nets’ aii Gwich’in Social Development – Arctic Village, Alaska,” presentation, Eighth Annual Conference of the International Association for the Study of Traditional Environments, Hong Kong, China, December 15, 2002.

Susan Frostén, School of Architecture & Design

“Technology as a Mediator: The Jean-Marie Tjibaou Cultural Center, New Caledonia,” presentation, International Association for the Study of Traditional Environments, Hong Kong, China, December 15, 2002.

R. Scott Hanson, School of General Studies

“Consecrating ‘a National Shrine to Religious Freedom’: Bowne House and the Tercentenary of Vlissingen (Flushing) in 1945,” presentation, Researching New York 2002: Perspectives on Empire State History, SUNY, Albany, NY, November 21-22, 2002.

III. GRANTS

Ellen Kolodner & Cynthia Haynes, School of Science & Health

Grant from Federation Day Care Services for project, “Supervision of Occupational Therapy Student in Daycare Programs for Typically Developing Children to Demonstrate Contribution of Occupational Therapy Services.”

IV. EXHIBITS

Ann Northrup, School of Textiles & Materials Technology

“Intimate Lighting,” one person show, Lawrence Gallery, Rosemont College, January 16-February 9.

V. OTHER

William Adoff, School of Business Administration

Co-authored iAmecs Advanced One-Card System, software, NuVision Networks, Napa, California.

Eileen Angelini, School of General Studies

“Coffee Cake á la française,” videocassette, associate producer, Forever Young Productions, 2002.

Reviews: 1) Bernard Petit, “A French City Speaks: Video and Study Guide Package,” NECTFL Review, 51, Fall 2002, 63-64. 2) Gilles Asselin and Ruth Mastron, “Au Contraire! Figuring Out the French,” The Journal of Language for International Business, 13.1/2, 2002, 94-95. 3) Rodney Ball, “Colloquial French Grammar: A Practical Guide,” Modern Language Journal, 86.2, Summer 2002, 278-279.

“Understanding the Role of the Lover in the Writings of Marguerite Duras,” invited lecture, Massachusetts Foundation for the Humanities Literary Series, January 6, 2003.

“Preparing our Students for the Advanced Placement French Language Examination, workshop, College Board Advanced Placement Institute at La Salle University, July 22-26, 2002.

Jeffrey Ashley, School of Science & Health

“PCBs in the Hudson River...Follow the Fish!” and “The Chemistry of Dam Removal,” invited speaker, ENPLAS Science and Society Lecture Series, Kennesaw State University, Atlanta, GA, January 14, 2003.

Lawrence Carey, School of Science & Health

Invited lectures, Temple University, School of Pharmacy, December 2002.

Served as reviewer of pharmacy materials for 2004 Lippincott’s Nursing Drug Guide and Nursing IV Drug Handbook, 8th edition (Lippincott Williams and Wilkins), December 2002.

Sigrid Weltge, School of Textiles & Materials Technology

Invited to conduct seminar on Twentieth Century Design at Moore College of Art and Design, Philadelphia, PA, November 7, 2002.

“The Women of the Bauhaus,” invited lecture, Germantown Friends School, Philadelphia, PA, January 11, 2003.