Medical Condition Addendum

Welcome to Philadelphia University! You have indicated interest in special accommodations on your Housing Application and Agreement. In order to be considered for accommodations in residential living at Philadelphia University, please provide information as outlined below. All information must be received by Hannah Bar-Giora, Director of Disability Services, by June 15, 2007 for incoming students.

- Students must complete and sign the attached Student Request for Special Consideration in Residence Life (FORM #1) and submit to Amy Schwab by June 15, 2007 for incoming students.
- Students must submit the attached Medical Documentation of Disability for Special Consideration in Residence Life (FORM #2) to their medical provider(s) for completion. The completed form and any additional supporting information regarding your request must also be submitted to Amy Schwab by June 15, 2007 for incoming students.

Following review of Forms 1 and 2 and any additional information provided, you will be contacted in writing by Amy Schwab regarding your eligibility for accommodations in residential living. Residence Life will receive a copy of this correspondence.

Please note that students must exhibit a substantial limitation in a major life function(s) in order to meet the legal definition of disability according to the Americans with Disabilities Act. Students who do not exhibit legally disabling conditions will not be considered for accommodations in residential living.
