

Honors Credit Graduate Level Courses

Honors Students who are seniors and have a 3.4 or better GPA may receive up to 6 Honors credits for graduate courses. Students are restricted to graduate courses at Philadelphia University for which they have the prerequisite. Students must have permission of the Director of the Graduate Program in which the course is offered.

Note: This option is not available for graduate courses taken as part of joint bachelor + masters programs.

Students should obtain the current Graduate Studies Catalog for a description of course offerings and prerequisites. Foundation courses will not result in Honors credit. (The foundation courses are equivalent to undergraduate courses within the specific discipline.)

Students should be thoroughly familiar with the Policies and Procedures as described in the Graduate Studies Catalog.

Courses taken as part of the student's full load will be covered by the undergraduate full time tuition fee. Courses taken on a part time basis will be subject to the standard graduate tuition.

Students are responsible for ensuring that any graduate course will fit into their undergraduate curriculum. Such courses may certainly be used as electives. If the student intends for a graduate course to fulfill a requirement within his or her major or minor the appropriate course substitution requirements for the major or minor department must be met. The academic advisor for the major or minor will have the necessary information and/or forms.

Included in this packet is the necessary form to take advantage of this option. The appropriate signatures must be obtained by the student before registering for a graduate course.
