

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT:

Chris Clark
Media Relations
215.951.2851

Dateline NBC Correspondent John Hockenberry to Speak at Philadelphia University's 119th Commencement on Sunday, May 18, 2003

WHAT: Philadelphia University's 119th Commencement Ceremony

WHO: Dateline NBC Correspondent, John Hockenberry;
Over 700 Graduates;
More than 4,000 spectators

WHERE: Philadelphia University
School House Lane and Henry Avenue, Philadelphia

WHEN: Sunday, May 18, 2003
11 a.m.

VISUALS: Flags representing every graduate's country will be displayed around the venue; academic procession of faculty, trustees, honorary degree recipients, and newest graduates

DETAILS:

John Hockenberry, Dateline NBC Correspondent and award-winning journalist, will deliver the Commencement address at Philadelphia University, Sunday, May 18 at 11 a.m. Hockenberry, who received numerous awards for his on-location coverage of the Gulf War, will share his experiences with the recent graduates.

Honorary degrees will be bestowed upon Hockenberry, Philadelphia University alumnus and founder of SKYY Spirits, LLC, Maurice Kanbar, and the 1983 recipient of the National Medal of Science, Dr. Herman Heine Goldstine.