

Establishing the Relationship: Setting the Tone

The day is finally here.....

Your Level I student is expected to arrive.....

You want the first meeting to go well.....so here's some ideas:

Make sure to:

- Clarify your expectations
- Review learning objectives the student will achieve
- Share your learning & teaching style
- Find out the students learning style
- Explain how you will provide feedback
- Clarify behavioral, organizational and time management issues.

The end result:

- A positive and successful fieldwork educator/student relationship throughout the clinical placement.
