2010 Annual Security/Fire Safety Report

Philadelphia University Security/Fire Report

YOUR SECURITY AT PHILADELPHIA UNIVERSITY

Your safety and security is extremely important to us at Philadelphia University. The following information is provided to you to share our commitment to the security of our University family and to inform you about the steps you can take to ensure a safe and secure campus. The total enrollment at Philadelphia University for the fall of 2009 was estimated to be 3,000 full-time equivalent students (FTES). Approximately 1,200 students lived on campus and there were approximately 500 full time equivalent non-student personnel employed by the University.

Information for this report is compiled from various departments (especially the Department of Safety and Security and Division of Student Life) and sources both within and outside the University, including the Philadelphia Police Department. The document is prepared by the Department of Safety and Security, to which all criminal offenses should be reported. To the extent possible, confidentiality and anonymity are respected; however, no formal confidential reporting process is in place. Each year notification is made to all students, faculty and staff through U.S. mail service, campus mail, or electronic mail which includes the web site to this report.

REPORTING A CRIME

We encourage you to report all crimes and emergencies, no matter how small, to the Department of Safety and Security immediately. In addition to emergency phone call boxes, the University provides two telephone numbers: The 24 hour communication center can be reached 215-951-2999 to report all criminal activity and/or emergencies. An additional number that can be used in emergencies is 215-848-5555. The Office of Safety and Security is available for walk-in complaints, and the business phone number for the Office is 215-951-2620. For off-campus crimes, the Philadelphia Police Department can be reached via 911.

Philadelphia University Department of Safety and Security works very closely with the Philadelphia Police Department and other law enforcement agencies. Arrests of individuals on University property are made by the Philadelphia Police with the assistance of the Department of Safety and Security. Criminal incidents on campus are reported to the Pennsylvania State Police.

Upon receipt of any complaint (criminal or otherwise), an officer will respond to take a report and include crimes in our crime statistics. A follow-up investigation will be conducted in appropriate situations. Anyone who is the victim of a crime is encouraged to report the crime to the Philadelphia Police. Safety and Security cannot report the crime for them. Philadelphia Police will only take a report from the victim. If deemed necessary Philadelphia Police may conduct an investigation and potentially work with Philadelphia University Security. There is no memorandum of understanding between Philadelphia University and Philadelphia Police relative to investigations of crime.

CAMPUS SECURITY AUTHORITY

The Department of Safety and Security provides 24 hour patrol protection to the campus. The Department is a non-sworn private security entity responsible for the security of the Main campus only, and consists of a director, an associate director, an administrative assistant, three safety and security supervisors, and thirteen patrol officers. The communications section includes a supervisor and five communications officers. A private security agency provides protection for the Bucks County Campus and several non-campus areas. Many of the officers have prior police or security training. The University also provides an ongoing program of in-service and on-the-job training for patrol officers in the area of patrol procedures, emergency response, CPR, first aid, report writing, etc. Patrol officers are not armed and no one is allowed to possess a weapon on campus.

SECURITY AND ACCESS TO CAMPUS FACILITIES

The residence halls are always locked and one security monitor, who is trained in access-control procedures and general security practices, is posted at the entrance of each residence hall 24 hours a day to restrict access and register guests. All residence halls have automatic locks on residence hall doors.* Electronic alarms/delayed egress hardware is installed on exit doors to deter propping and limit access. All windows are equipped with screens and locking devices to deter unauthorized entry. Residence hall room doors are equipped with locks and one-way door viewers.

Safety and Security officers routinely patrol the outside and inside of residence halls. Security education and awareness programs are presented annually at orientation and in each of the residence halls. Each student is provided with security information and enforcement procedures for housing policies.

During low-occupancy periods, the residence halls are locked and the keyways plugged or changed. Students who stay on campus during these periods must register with the Office of Residence Life. The Department of Safety and Security is made aware of the students' location and a security monitor is assigned 24 hours a day at the entrance to those residence halls. Occasionally, outside groups and guests of the University are permitted to live on campus, usually when no students are present. They are subject to strict policies.

Undergraduate student housing is available on campus in the form of singles, doubles, triples and quads. We have single sex and co-ed residence halls. All students, after advising and mediation, may apply for changes in room assignments when necessary.

For extended housing purposes, the University leases apartments outside the contiguous area of campus. In accordance with the Clery Act, they are considered "non campus". Statistics for Alden Park area are included in the non campus section from that date forward. Security is provided by the management of Alden Park Apartments and their Security vendor. Some security features include restricted access monitored by 24-hour security at the front desk, 24 hour roving patrols, and strict key control. The Department of Safety and Security and the Department of Residence Life work with Alden Park management and their security vendor.

The academic buildings are locked after evening classes and unlocked in the morning when classes are scheduled. The buildings are posted with trespass warnings and the Department of Safety and Security patrol them on a regular basis. Building hours may be adjusted based on academic needs. This is done through the Vice President of Academic Affairs office in consultation with the Department of Safety and Security. Anytime buildings are used after hours, the "Two Person Rule" is in effect.

The University is private property and is only open to students, faculty, staff, guests and those with business at the University. However, the campus is physically open to people coming on campus. While known trespassers are escorted off campus and/or arrested, it is virtually impossible to limit access only to individuals who have a right to be on campus. Security lighting has been installed throughout the campus and in parking areas. The Physical Plant periodically checks the lighting as well as trims shrubs, hedges and trees. In addition to the Department of Safety and Security, the campus community may file Physical Plant maintenance requests for lighting, landscaping and for grounds keeping.

SECURITY AWARENESS, CRIME PREVENTION AND TIMELY WARNINGS

Routinely, through brochures, pamphlets, memorandums, in-house publications, presentations and orientations, members of the community receive crime prevention information. Everyone is encouraged to report all criminal activity that occurs on campus to the Department of Safety and Security and they are informed of security matters both on and off campus. They are also advised to report all criminal acts occurring off campus to the local police department.

Employees are screened for previous criminal convictions at the time of hiring.

A van transportation system is available across campus and to Alden Park Apartments until 10:00 p.m. After the van stops running at night, an on-campus escort system is available to students traveling alone.

On a regular basis, information is obtained by the Department of Safety and Security from municipal police departments to learn about criminal activity in the public areas around campus, non-campus properties or off-campus incidents involving Philadelphia University students and/or organizations. A follow-up investigation is conducted with the student or student organization that was involved. Relevant crime information regarding campus, non-campus locations and public areas around campus, that, in the judgment of the Director of Safety and Security or his designee, constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat, a campus wide "timely warning" will be issued. The warning will be issued through e-mail, voice mail, campus mail or posters.

SEX OFFENSE POLICY

Philadelphia University recognizes that sexual assault and rape constitute crimes that have medical, psychological, educational, social, sexual, and legal implications for the victim. The University conducts ongoing educational programs to promote awareness of rape, acquaintance rape, and other sex offenses. The education, awareness and training programs consist of lectures, multimedia presentations, brochures, pamphlets and self-defense training.

The University is committed to treating the victim with maximum sensitivity. Victims are strongly encouraged to report sexual assault, whether it has occurred on or off campus, to the Department of Safety and Security. By doing this, they can receive assistance and support, and learn about their options to file a complaint. The Department of Safety and Security will coordinate contact with the appropriate outside police agency. Local hospitals, Women Organized Against Rape, friends, family or clergy are also available for support and will be coordinated through the office of Student Life. The University does recognize, however, that the victim has the right to report the incident without filing a complaint on campus or in the criminal court. The University also recognizes the need to protect the victim's confidentiality and will honor a request for such to the maximum extent feasible, consistent with the University's responsibility to maintain a safe environment for its community. University personnel who receive a report of sexual assault or rape from a student should, at a minimum, report the basic information regarding the incident (e.g., date, time, and place) to the office of the Dean of Students and the director of Safety and Security.

Students may file a complaint through the office of the Dean of Students in accordance with the University Judicial System. Both the complainant and respondent are entitled to have an advisor present at the hearing itself, and both will be informed of the outcome, as detailed in the University Judicial Procedures. Final sanctions may include, but are not limited to, the following:

Counseling services are available for victims of sexual assault and can provide information about the victim's option to file charges within the University or to file a criminal complaint. Counselors work with victims throughout their recovery process and/or until the victim is connected to the appropriate resource off campus. The Health Services Department will offer immediate and confidential medical treatment to victims of sexual assault until they can be transported to the proper facility. The victim is cautioned not to bathe, douche, tidy up or otherwise discard or conceal any evidence that might be used to apprehend the offender. If needed, the Health Services Department will also assist the student in contacting other resources at the University or in the community.

In all cases of alleged sexual assault, the University will take all reasonable steps to ensure the complainant's physical safety and general well-being, including changing living and academic situations, if requested. Information concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained from the Pennsylvania State Police website <http://www.psp.state.pa.us> or Philadelphia Police Department at 215-686-1776.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE

In compliance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989, Philadelphia University established the Substance Abuse Prevention Policy to provide a comprehensive overview of the standards of conduct, legal implications, University penalties, health risks and counseling options that apply to all members of the Philadelphia University community. The possession, use and sale of alcoholic beverages is limited to University-sanctioned events except that students who are 21 years of age or older are permitted to drink alcohol in the privacy of their residence hall rooms. All federal, commonwealth and city laws concerning alcohol and illegal drug use, sale and possession are strictly enforced. The possession, use and sale of illegal drugs is prohibited.

The Office of Student Development Programs is a center for the prevention of chemical misuse and abuse. A primary objective of the Office is to promote a collegiate experience that is free of alcohol and other drug-related risks. Services are provided to increase knowledge and awareness regarding the impact of substances on the individual, the campus and the community. All students, staff, faculty and friends of the University are encouraged to utilize the Office's counseling services.

If you have any questions or need more information, please feel free to contact the Department of Safety and Security.

MISSING PERSONS

If a member of the university community has reason to believe that a student is missing they should contact the Department of Safety and Security immediately at 215-951-2999 or 2999 from a campus telephone.

Once the student is determined missing, Safety and Security will notify Philadelphia Police and the student's missing person confidential contact within 24 hours. If the missing student is under age 18, and is not an emancipated minor, Philadelphia University will notify the student's parent or legal guardian immediately after Safety and Security has determined that the student is determined missing for 24 hours.

Students can identify a contact person by going to the Safety and Security website at www.philau.edu/security and clicking on the button for confidential missing person contact information. The information disclosed on this site is confidential and would only be used by Safety and Security, Police and campus officials involved in the investigation of a missing student.

CAMPUS EMERGENCY RESPONSE, NOTIFICATION AND EVACUATION PROCEDURES

Philadelphia University's Emergency Guide and Emergency Operations Manuals include information about the Emergency Resource Team and University operating status parameters; incident priorities and performance expectations; evacuation guidelines; and contingency planning. University departments are responsible for developing contingency plans and continuity of operations plans for their staff and areas of responsibility. The University conducts numerous emergency response exercises each year such as table top exercises, task specific drills, and internal and external tests of the emergency notification system on campus. These tests are designed to assess and evaluate the emergency plans and capabilities of the institution. Philadelphia University Safety and Security as well as Resource Team members have been trained in incident command and responding to critical incidents on campus and working with local responders and federal agencies. The university's emergency guide can be seen at: <http://www.philau.edu/security/EmergencyResourceGuide2010.pdf>

In the event of an immediate threat to health or safety of students or employees on campus Philadelphia University will follow its emergency notification procedures and provide adequate follow-up information to the community as needed. The Department of Safety and Security is responsible for confirming a significant emergency or dangerous situation exists and determining the appropriate segment of the campus community to receive the notifications as well as the content of the notification and the initiation of the notification system. This action will take place without delay and take into account the safety of the community. The notification system will not be used if, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

An evacuation drill is coordinated by the Philadelphia University Department of Safety and Security monthly in each residence hall on campus during the fall and spring semester. Emergency response and evacuation procedures are tested eight (8) times each year. Students learn the location of the emergency exits in the buildings and are provided guidance about the direction they should travel when exiting each facility for a short-term building evacuation. The purpose of the evacuation is to prepare building occupants for an organized evacuation in case of a fire or other emergency. This process also provides the University an opportunity to test the operation of the fire alarm system and components. Evacuation drills are monitored by the Department of Safety and Security and the Department of Residence Life to evaluate egress and behavioral patterns. Deficient equipment identified is reported for immediate repair. Students receive information about evacuation procedures during their first floor meeting and during other educational sessions that they can participate in throughout the year.

FIRE SAFETY

If a fire occurs in a Philadelphia University building, community members should immediately notify Philadelphia University Department of Safety and Security at 215-951-2999. Philadelphia University Safety and Security will initiate a response with Philadelphia Bureau of Fire. If any member of the community finds evidence of a fire, no matter how small, Safety and Security should be notified to investigate and document the incident.

Fire alarms alert community members of potential hazards and community members are required to heed their warning and evacuate the buildings immediately upon hearing a fire alarm in a facility. Use the nearest stairwell and/or exit to leave the building immediately. Community members should familiarize themselves with the exits in each building. Elevators should not be used for an exit of fire alarms. The elevators in most buildings will automatically stop on the nearest floor with an exit. Fire drills are conducted in residence halls six (6) times per year and once per year in academic and administrative buildings. Fire safety and education is provided to all first year students as part of their orientation on campus. Additional fire safety education and training is offered based on job responsibility and assignments. Candles, incense, lanterns, potpourri and other flammable items including but not limited to hot plates, electric frying pans, halogen lamps, immersion coils, fireworks, flammable liquids, and flammable decorations are not permitted on campus unless officially sanctioned and supervised by University officials. Tampering with alarm-pull stations and/or fire extinguishers without just cause and/or failing to evacuate from a building during a fire alarm is strictly prohibited.

CRIME RATES AND STATISTICS

Individual category crime rates may be calculated by comparing the individual category statistics to the combined full-time equivalent undergraduate and graduate populations (FTES) and the full-time equivalent employees, which is approximately 3,500. Dividing this population figure into 100,000 and multiplying the resultant figure by individual category statistics will produce the crime rate per 100,000 persons per category.
