

EVENTS FOR THE MONTH, CLICK HERE >>

- ### NEW BRIEFS
- Philadelphia University's Women's Crew Medals at Dad Vail Regatta >>
 - Design Center Receives \$20,000 Grant for Upcoming Exhibit >>
 - Push Pin Exhibit Highlights Students' Semester-Long Work >>
 - Students Design Traditional Garb for Japanese House and Garden >>
 - Philadelphia University Events for May 14 >>

You are encouraged to submit event listings by using an online form; to access this form, click here >>

- ### SAVE THE DATE
- Mark your calendars for these upcoming events >>

- ### RECYCLING TIP OF THE WEEK
-
- To learn how Philadelphia University's cooking-oil recycling company Greaseland reprocesses oil, CLICK HERE >>

- ### IN THE NEWS
- Philadelphia University's winning Women's Novice Eight Crew were recently featured in the Philadelphia Inquirer and on the 6ABC News >>

- ### HATS OFF
- Students Shari Chung '07, Science and Business; Michele Petrucci '08, Science and Business; Nicole Rienzi '07, Science and Business; Alisa Turner '10, Biochemistry; Sarah Wiegand '07, Science and Business; and Marissa Wisniewski '08, Science and Business, enrolled in Associate Professor of Chemistry Jeffrey Ashley's Instrumental Methods of Analysis class, presented their semester-long research entitled, Are Fish Oil Capsules the Safer Approach to a PCB-free Lifestyle, at this year's Sigma Xi Undergraduate Research Symposium April 20 at Saint Joseph's University. Their research evaluated the presence of man-made contaminants in over-the-counter fish-oil supplements and identified supplements as a healthier means of obtaining omega-3-fatty acids than ingesting fish.
 - Senior Industrial Design student Justin Siebel and his thesis project that proposes new diabetic devices for children was recently featured on DiabetesMine.com, a blog site for people living with diabetes.

- ### PHOTO OF THE WEEK
-
- American Marketing Association Hosted Autism-Awareness Activities >>