

Course Overload Policy for Full-Time Faculty

Full-time faculty may teach in overload for up to five (5) WLUs of lecture, lab, or studio course sections, per reporting term.

On-campus and online courses, as well as those within and outside of the faculty member's home program, College, or School are covered by the Course Overload Policy for Full-time Faculty. The "Policy about Full-time Faculty Teaching Trans-Program and/or Trans-College" is included in the Course Overload Policy.

Exceptions to the Course Overload Policy must be requested by a Program Director and approved by the Dean—prior to the start of the semester or term and with as much notice as possible. The Dean will notify the College's Manager of Academic Operations of the approved exception.

Updated 10/17